

LOVE THE WORLD SACRIFICIALLY

Text: Matthew 4:18-19

February 7, 2016

We exist to make disciples who are compelled by the gospel to love God supremely, love one another humbly, and love the world sacrificially.

The Call to Love the World Sacrificially? (Matthew 4:18-19)

- If you follow Christ, then you fish for people.

The Motivation to Love the World Sacrificially? □(2 Cor 5:11-21)

- We are compelled by the fear of the Lord.
- We are controlled by the love of Christ.
- We are ambassadors for Christ.

Our Approach to Loving the World Sacrificially

- Our evangelism approach revolves around... □
 - Equipping people and sending them out to intentionally make disciples in the different spheres of influence God has sovereignly placed them.
 - Ordinary people living ordinary lives with Gospel intentionality.
 - Our primary strategy for reaching people is (YOUR NAME HERE).
- Scattering people to their different spheres of influence to live as a community on mission together.
 - There is great power in making disciples together as a community.
 - As you seek to love the world sacrificially, regularly look for opportunities to include other church members along with you.
 - As you seek to love one another humbly, regularly look for opportunities to include those in your sphere of influence with you.
 - Commit to reach a particular group of people in a particular setting.
